

Oxford to London seat availability analysis

A simple way to record how the timetable has changed for Oxford travellers is to look at one statistic – the number of seats (and available seats) from Oxford.

Looking at the 0600-0800 period (key commuter times), new and old, the figures are as follows:

Old (6 services):

0600 – 3 coach turbo; 275 seats; all empty on arrival at Oxford.

0631 – Adelante; 282 seats; approx 150 empty on arrival at Oxford.

0645 – HST, 472 seats; all empty on arrival at Oxford.

0658 – 3 coach turbo; 275 seats; approx 100 empty on arrival at Oxford.

0725 – Adelante; 282 seats; all empty on arrival at Oxford.

0745 – HST; 472; approx 100 empty on arrival at Oxford.

Total of 1379 were available from Oxford between 6am and 8.30am.

New (3 services):

0638 – Adelante; 282 seats; approx 150 empty on arrival in Oxford.

0705 – Adelante; 282 seats; approx 20 empty on arrival in Oxford.

0744 – HST; 472 seats; approx 100 empty on arrival in Oxford.

Total of 270 seats now available from Oxford between 6am and 8.30am.

We have lost 1109 seats out of 1379 – this is a percentage loss of 80%, which is absolutely disgraceful.
